THE PROMISE OF VICTORY.

Major McKinley, it appears upon the testimony of such unprejudiced observers as Mark Hanna and Joseph Manley, is already elected. Nothing is left but the shouting, and the two gentlemen referred to seem inclined to leave very little of that to be done after election. Mr. Hanna yesterday informed an eager but not too credulous world that McKinley had 311 electoral votes sure, 26 more probably for him and 32 doubtful. To get the first total Entered in the Post Office in New York as he classed California, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, West Daily Edition . . . . One Cent have been reliably Democratic in every Presidential election since reconstruction days. In Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, Mr. Bryan's chances of victory are thrice as promising as McKinley's, while Galifornia and Nebraska are committed to the Democratic candidate beyond a shadow of a doubt. The States which the Republican chairman classes as probably for McKinley are Kansas, Virginia and Washington. Few cool observers will have any appre-One Year.. $5.50

Texas and Missouri are the only doubtful States Mr. Hanna knows.

Mr. Manley is little more moderate than his ch'ef. Three hundred and seven votes he finds certain for McKinley.
